Systemic Approach to Inclusive Scholarship Shifts in Promotion

Publicly Engaged Scholarship

- Type 1. Research—business, industry, commodity group funded. Sponsored research or inquiry supported through grants or contracts from businesses, industries, trade associations, or commodity groups (e.g., agricultural or natural resources groups) that generates new knowledge to address practical problems experienced by public or practitioner audiences.
- Type 2. Research—nonprofit, foundation, government funded. Sponsored research or inquiry supported through grants or contracts from community-based organizations, nonprofit organizations, foundations, or government agencies that generates new knowledge to address practical problems experienced by public or practitioner audiences.
- Type 3. Research—unfunded or intramurally funded applied research. Community-responsive or community-based research or inquiry that is not funded by a community partner but instead is pursued by faculty through intramural support or as financially unsupported research or inquiry.
- Type 4. Creative activities. Original creations of literary, fine, performing, or applied arts and other expressions or activities of creative disciplines or fields that are made available to or generated in collaboration with a public (non-university) audience.

Publicly Engaged Instruction

- Type 5. Instruction—for credit—nontraditional audiences.
 - Classes and instructional programs that offer student academic credit hours and are designed and marketed specifically to serve those who are neither traditional campus degree seekers nor campus staff.
- Type 6. Instruction—for credit—curricular, community-engaged learning.
 - Classes and curricular programs where students learn with, through and from community partners, in a community context, under the guidance and supervision of faculty members.
- Type 7. Instruction—noncredit—classes and programs.
 - Classes and instructional programs marketed specifically to those who are neither degree seekers nor campus staff.
- Type 8. Instruction—noncredit—managed learning environments.
 - Scholarly resources designed for general public audiences that are often learner-initiated and learner-paced (e.g., museums, galleries, libraries, gardens, exhibits, expositions).
- Type 9. Instruction—noncredit—public understanding, events, and media.
 - Scholarly resources designed for the general public that are accessible through print, radio, television, or web media. General examples include self-paced educational materials and products (e.g., bulletins, pamphlets, encyclopedia entries, educational broadcasting, CD-ROMs, software, textbooks for lay audiences); dissemination of scholarship through media (e.g., speakers' bureaus, TV appearances, newspaper interviews, radio broadcasts, web pages, and podcasts, if scholarly and readily available to the public); and popular writing in newsletters, popular press, or practitioner-oriented publications.

Publicly Engaged Service

- Type 10. Service—technical assistance, expert testimony, and legal advice. Provision of university-based knowledge or other scholarly advice through direct interaction with non-university clients who have requested assistance to address an issue or solve a problem.
- Type 11. Service—co-curricular service-learning. Service-learning experiences that are not offered in conjunction with a credit-bearing course or academic program and do not include reflection on community practice or connections between content and the experience.
- Type 12. Service—patient, clinical, and diagnostic services. Services offered to human and animal clients, with care provided by university faculty members or professional or graduate students, through hospitals, laboratories, and clinics.
- Type 13. Service—advisory boards and other discipline-related service. Contributions of scholarly expertise made by faculty, staff, and students at the request of non-university audiences on an ad hoc or ongoing basis.
- Type 14. Commercialized activities. Translation of new knowledge generated by the university to the public through the commercialization of discoveries (e.g., technology transfer, licenses, copyrights, and some forms of economic development).

Audience

- External Reviewers – experts in your field
- Department Committee – within discipline, but not necessarily experts
- College Committee & University Committee – educated and interested professionals usually outside of your discipline
- What do each of these groups want to know?

Considerations

- What does the audience need to know that may not be obvious in your CV?
- Consider areas of confluence for your scholarship, teaching and service.
- First paragraph and last paragraph matter
 - Position your work and key things that you are known for

Writing Tips

- Keep wording specific enough for experts, but accessible enough for non-experts
- Show, don't tell
- Give context
- Use transition that link the chain of events and the significance of your work
- Not chronological
